

Transportation Asset Management Council
Monthly Report

February 2005

- Work continued on the development of the internet-based reporting process. CGI is planning on a demonstration at the March Council meeting.
- Rick Lilly met with a number of regional planning agencies to discuss last year's data collection efforts; upcoming training programs; and other issues that had been discussed at the Higgins Lake conference last November.
- Analysis of the data collection process has been stymied because of problems with the way the data was reported and the fact that several counties have still not fully reported.
- The agencies selected to receive funding for pilot studies have all been informed and the authorizations implemented. Those agencies not selected were also contacted and it was explained to them why their proposals were not selected.
